SUGAR LOAF BURNS

THINKING OUT LOUD

By H. M. L.

The parking meter question is coming to a boil. The city council is soon to set the time for an election to be held next month. The chamber of commerce, such members of it as attended the meeting, voted against the parking meters decisively. But of course that is not the whole story, though business men should know where their best interests lie. There are to be considered all those customers who live along Highway 49, the Downieville Road, all those who live along Highway 20, the Tahoe Ukiah Highway, who have no vote. Only residents of Nevada City can vote on a matter that is either a blessing or a curse to the whole country round about.

Parking meters generally have prooved satisfactory. We note that Auburn, which laced their parking meters along the streets, just before we did, is undergoing the same question and answer period that we are. We have noted in the course of having lived here for some time that Sierra foothill towns are inclined to be very conservative. What suits Sacramento and bigger cities, does not always suit us.

In the present instance, this ultra conservative sentiment may work to our disadvantage. We imagine that shoppers coming into town for some distance are glad to find places on Broad and other strets, reasonably near to the doorways of the stores in which they buy commodities. The payment of a penny or two gives them ample time to shop and drive away. The turn-over in cars on Broad Street, we have noted is two or three tines as great as it was under the old, clumsy system of chalk marks.

And speaking of chalk, how often our good citnzens spying a chalk mark on their front tires, either back their car or ran it ahead for a parking space and left it there another hour, or, if that were impossible, ran it hurriedly around the block, erasing the chalk mark, and parked it in the same old space again. The vigilant policeman may have had a very definite notion of what had occurred, but under the chalk mark system, he had no case if the car had been moved. The parking meters cannot be erased except by drunken drivers.

There is another matter we think should be carefully considered before voting on parking meters. We are to be hosts to many thousands of motorists, not only from our state but from all 48 states, during the centennial years of 1948, 1949, and 1950. As good hosts we should provide these visitors were parking spots. Of course there would be a small fee under the new system for using parking spots, but we are quite certain the visitors would gladly pay it, for, as a matter of fact parking meters are in general use in many cities and towns of the U. S.

As a long term institution, parking meters are revenue producers for the city. We look abroad and note that such city as San Francisco is hard put to it to make both ends meet and now proposes a sales tax to increase its revenue. Indeed, there is hardly a city or village in the country that does not need money just for the purpose of keeping abreast the tide of progress. The Nevada City parking meters are bringing into the municipal coffers a matter of $600 a month, or $7,200 a year, which is not hay. This should be given consideration too when we go to the polls to vote.

Parking meter money is contributed by many who are not local taxpayers. It is money which will not reduce our taxes but in time may serve to keep them from increasing too fast.

FLAMES LEVEL OLD HOTEL IN DOWNIEVILLE

DOWNIEVILLE (Sierra Co.)—The historic St. Charles Hotel, one of the oldest in California and a landmark of Gold Rush days, was destroyed by fire shortly before 1 a. m. Monday. The loss is estimated in excess of $50,000.

It was the third disastrous hotel fire in Superior California since last Thursday, when a $750,000 blaze swept through the Mt. Lassen Hotel in Susanville, Lassen County. On Friday the U. S. Hotel in Cloverdale, was destroyed with a loss of $80,000.

The St. Charles fire was discovered by George C. Bynon, night watchman. He said it started in a second floor room and spread rapidly. The origin has not been determined.

Bynon reported he heard two dull explosions which caused him to investigate and discover the flames. It was considered likely the explosions may have been caused by butane tanks.

Guests, who included a half dozen permanent residents, escaped but lost all their belongings. George Pezzola, who occupied a rear room, escaped throgh a window and over a shed roof.

Stocks and furnishings of a clothing store operated by Mrs. Irma Hallman and a barber shop operated by Justice of the Peace J. W. Robbins, were saved.

The building was constructed in 1864 on the site of a previous hotel also destroyed by fire. It was owned by Ora Huggins.

During the early days the hotel was one of four in Downieville and was the official headquarters for Marysville, Nevada City and Sierra Valley stages. It also housed the first telegraph office and the Wells Fargo Express Company. The old barroom was the scene of numerous poker games, in the early days for the proverbial high stakes of the miners.

Some residents ascribed the cause of the fire to a leaky gas fitting in a rear second floor room. The blaze was finally extinguished by the Downieville volunteer fire department assisted by Downieville station, U. S. Forest Service.

FUNERAL FOR BEN JENKIN

GRASS VALLEY: Ben Jenkin, former chief of police, died in a local hospital at 5:20 o'clock yesterday morning. He was stricken with a heart attack late Saturday afternoon in his home, 116 Winchester Street. Funeral arrangements are pending in Hooper and Weaver Mortuary.

Jenkin was identified with the Grass Valley police department for twenty years, first as member and for almost ten years as chief. He resigned about April 1st.

He was a member of the Grass Valley Elks Lodge, the Grass Valley Rifle, Rod and Gun Club, the Grass Valley Foresters, and, as a veteran of the first world war who fought in France, of the American Legion Post.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Lucille Jenkin, a son, Robert Jenkin, naval veteran of World War II, and brothers Clarence of San Francisco, and Edward Jenkin of Fresno.

Mrs. Annie Peterson Died Friday Morning

NEVADA CITY: Mrs. Annie Peterson died Friday morning in a Grass Valley hospital.

Mrs. Peterson was born in England 75 years ago. She had resided for the last few months at 116 Orchard Street, Nevada City. Her son, Ronald Peterson, of Hayward, survives. Obsequies are in charge of Holmes Funeral Home.

Bottom picture, taken from the Tahoe-Ukiah Highway in front of the residence of Mrs. Martha Hogue about 2:15 Saturday afternoon, show the fire being blown almost horizontal by the heavy wind as the racing holocaust got off to a flying start.

NID DIRECTORS VOTE AGAINST HIRING BEATIE

GRASS VALLEY: The directors of the Nevada Irrigation district Friday defeated a motion to employ Ray Beatie, former ditchtender and official of the district, as manager to succeed William Durbrow, who wishes to retire.

The vote was two to three against employing Beatie immediately. Director Harold Gleason made the motion and Thomas Mulcahy, chairman stepped down from his chair to offer a second.

O. G. Griffiths, who with Gleason formed the two-man committee to find a new manager for the NID, said that they had several applications still under consideration and he desired more time, as it was desired to make the best selection possible.

Blackie and Wood, engineers, submitted a request for an additional $25,000 fee for making the drawings and plans for Scott's Flat dam. Their original fee was $25,000. The board agreed to ask Blackie to appear and state his reasons for asking for more.

During the morning the directors discussed a retirement plan for employes and agreed that private companies which had adopted such systems should be contacted to find out details.

There was considerable diccussion regarding the discharge of one or more employes for alleged union activitw. The management denied that anyone had been discharged for that reason.

In the afternoon Beatie appeared before the board and stated his qualifications for the job of manager. The directors agreed to meet August 8th and, if possible come to a decision.

Louis W. Schegel Death Caused By Heart Ailment

NEVADA CITY: Louis W. Schlegel died Friday morning in a Nevada City hospital. He succumbed to a heart malady. He has been employed in road building for several months in this locality. But little is known of his activities prior to coming here.

The deceased was a native of Minnesota, aged 49 years. He had lived for some time at North San Juan. He leaves two daughters, June and Reta Schlegel in Montana, and his mother, Mrs. Anna Proctor, a resident of Proctor, Minnesota. Two brothers John of Minnesota, and Joseph Schlegel of Klamath Falls, Oregon. Funeral services are pending in Holmes Funeral Home.

R. Hodge and Dick Lane were up over the week end to look over the Snow Point mining properties. They are engaged in drilling test holes. T. E. Massie, is in charge.

FIRE WHICH STARTED ABOUT 1 P. M. SATURDAY STILL SMOLDERING MON.

NEVADA CITY: A spectacular forest fire, originating in wayside garbage dump, swept over and around Sugar Loaf Mountain, that rises on the north side of Nevada City, Saturday afternoon and night, burning approximately 1,600 acres of brush and timber.

No homes were destroyed, but valuable timberlands were laid waste. The fire, fanned by a brisk wind from the southwest swept up the east side of Sugar Loaf and around on the north side. The southern and western slopes were untouched.

More than 200 men, perhaps fifty of them volunteers with homes along the North Bloomfield road, fought the fire from 1:15 p. m. Saturday until 12 noon yesterday.

The fire jumped the North Bloomfield Road and did extensive damage to timber and pasture lands along Rock Creek. It burned toward Selby Flat, and east toward the Hoge Mine. Saturday night it raced up the north side of Harmony Ridge and burned down the southern slope for a quarter of a mile above Manzanita Diggings. The flames were visible from anywhere in Nevada City. Often a pine tree would ignite and burn like a bright torch.

On the north side of the Bloomfield road the largest area was devastated, the flames frequently threatening the new and old-time homes along the road with the fire fighters doggedly building backfires and fire barriers. Caterpillars were employed in many places to create barriers.

The State Division of Forestry, from its headquarters on the outskirts of Nevada City, sent four crews with pumper trucks. Nevada City's fire department sent a pumper truck with crew under Fire Chief Cameron Larsen. The Tahoe National Forest also sent men to aid the home owners in their battle to save the buildings along the roads and on the farms off the road. William F. Davies on Rock Creek reported the loss of 50 acres of young timber.

The brisk wind that fanned the fire Saturday afternoon and night began to blow again Sunday and fears were expressed that the fire would renew its onward march toward the South Yuba River.

The fire still smoldered in spots Monday afternoon as the last vestiges of flame were exterminated. A brisk battle on the part of fire fighters saved the homes of Charles Luce, George Holub, Carl Noren, and William Sandiforth.

Saturday evening the fire was apparently under control, but it later broke loose and necessitated constant effort by fire crews until five o'clock Sunday afternoon, when it was definitely under complete control.

Over a dozen pump trucks of the State Forestry Department were used, as well as miscellaneous equipment from various agencies.

Willard Welselsky, assistant ranger, was in charge of fire combating operations. Ranger William Sharpe was absent due to illness. The State Division of Forestry used 200 men. Tahoe National Forest co-operated with personnel headed by Fire Control Supervisor Keith McDonald and forest service equipment.

The Nevada City Volunteer Fire Department battled flames, as did units of the Grass Valley Fire department.

Obvious start of the fire was an old rubbish dump above town. The dump is located on the extension of Coyote Street that winds around Sugar Loaf. Apparently smouldering articles in the dump had whipped up enough flame to be blown by the brisk breeze clear across the ten foot road and into the highly inflammable brush there.

A survey Monday afternoon revealed that, in spite of the spectacular quality of the fire, lumber damage was relatively slight. A moderate area on the north side of Harmony Ridge, just above Manzanita Diggings, was completely devastated.

For the most part however, the smoky conflagration was a mammoth brush fire, completely burning out manzanita bushes, pine needles and undergrowth in general.

Due to the remarkably efficient efforts of the combined fire fighting groups, not a single house was destroyed.

PTA RADIO SHOW B'G SUCCESS IN CAMPTONVILLE

By Mrs. J. D. Rittenhouse

CAMPTONVILLE: The PTA went on the air "broadcasting" over a public address system in the U. S. Forest Service ranger station yard Saturday evening to produce the first successful entertainment in Camptonville since the Masonic Hall there was destroyed by fire. The program was sponsored by the Camptonville Parent Teachers Association.

The make-believe program was a caricature of a day's broadcast. It started with a rousing hoe-down by Dick Pfiffer and his fiddle and ended with a quiz contest, "Name That Song."

Dick Baker emceed the contest, and gave contestants antique household remedies from the storeroom of the Meek Market, established in Camptonville in 1855.

Mrs. Lotus Stoops won the contest and received the grand prize, a toy plastic washing machine carried to the stage by 3 strong men.

Mrs. Lottie Baker, presenting the Women's Hour, convulsed the audience with mirth when she read recipes for pie—berry—goose and chichazee fricken—pausing to ask if she were reading too fast for her listening audience to write down the recipes, which were so jumbled no one could possibly copy them.

Harold Price, Howard Williams and Mr. Everett Stoops entertained with a hair-raising take-off "daredevil Dan." (It's a fish—it's a whale—it's a submarine—it's Daredevil Dan!)

Mrs. Nelson Stone, Mrs. Alvin Molen and Mrs. J. D. Rittenhouse formed a musical trio to interrupt the program with singing commercials.

Mrs. Julius Cassano provided a special feature, telling of the early days of Camptonville and describing the original town before it was destroyed by fire about 1889 and again partially razed in 1908.

"Henry's Sixth Wife," a lurid soap opera, depicted an impossible domestic situation in a small town with Mrs. Lottie Baker and Mrs. J. D. Rittenhouse narrating the playlet.

Mrs. Martin Nordahl played a piano solo, "Dance of the Dolls" while Mrs. Lou Price took up a voluntary contribution.

Clarence Hanson did a fine act as general station announcer, assisted by Ed Baker and Everett Stoops. Alvin Molen provided theme songs and continuity music. Mrs. Nelson Stone accompanied Dick Pfiffer when he played the hoe-down.

After the program apple pie a-la-mode, and coffee were served by Mrs. Clarence Hansen, Mrs. Irene LeBars, and Mrs. Blanche Moore, assisted by members of the PTA.

Over $40 was cleared by the open-air entertainment. The funds will be used by the PTA to further the hot lunch program and to start a lending library.

JUST WONDERIN'

I wonder how within our hearts,
Though far and wide our footsteps roam,
There ever lives a dream of hills—
Our bonnie hills of home.

Summer rules this lovely realm by the sun-down sea, the open road invites, the hills of home are calling. Yes, I know that California's sun bright valleys, wonderful cities and magic shores are calling too, but just for today, I am thinking of our own Nevada County and even more especially of the San Juan Ridge whose fragrant hills I and my youthful companions learned to love when our hearts were young and gay.

As a mariner loves his sea, even so do the hill people love their hills; and so, at this season of the year, former residents of our beautiful Nevada County, come back to the hills, which to them will always be dreamed of, as the hills of home.

I am forgetting that, just for today, I wish to speak of The Ridge, and of the Ridge alone, which surely proves how hard it is for the human mind to stick to one subject. Well, the Ridge is calling and there are many who hear and heed that call. They come to wander through the little cities that used to be, to visit the old home and to note the changes wrought by time in its relentless flight. To our great delight, numbers of them drive in through our wildwood gate and then, quite often there are joyous reunions with old friends and schoolmates and much reminiscing.

I think there is nothing more beautiful in life than friendships which have persisted through the years and the love with which we hill people feel for our hills of home.

These are our hills; our hills with their fragrant forests and dimpled vales, our hills with their gentle slopes and rugged canyons, our hills with their rivers and singing streams, our hills with their gulches and man made canyons, our hills enveloped in the glamor and romance which links the present with a golden past and promises to the little cities that used to be, a bright tomorrow.

Come back, dear lovers of the hills, come back to the little cities you know so long ago, come back for just a little season to our hills, our hills of home. The Ridge is calling you.

She calls with all the dear familiar voices
Of father, mother, sister, brother, friend;
She calls to those who long since knew and loved her,
And having known her, love her to the end.
Upon her pine clad hills the sunlight lingers,
In quiet vales the wild flowers grow,
The Yuba from its rock-ribbed canyon calling,
Sings memory's golden song of long ago.

LOOKING AHEAD

BY GEORGE S. BENSON
President—Harding College
Searcy, Arkansas

The Eighth Person

Did you know that you're working 10 days out of every month for the government? Well, you are. That is the extent to which we have allowed activities of the government to grow. Perhaps, as a nation, we can see that the business of government has expanded. But when we get to looking at the books, the chances are we find a good deal more mushrooming than we imagined.

Look at this another way. If you may be considered an average person, you pay taxes at the same rate as if your employer paid you no wages ten days out of each month, but instead paid the check over to the government. This comes from the fact that right now federal, state, and local taxes consume about one-third of all the dollars earned in the United States. That's a burden on our necks that merits attention.

You Are Sharing

Now don't think you can get out of this by pleading innocent. You're just a wage earner, you say? Not a high-bracket man who turns over three-fourths of his net income to the government? Sure, you know the take is high, but you say he's the man who does the squawking? Listen: While you may not be paying directly your ten days wages to the government, you're paying just the same. The bill is made out every fiscal year, and you are helping to pay it.

Where does all this money go, you ask? Of course, we have a lot of expenditures in government, besides paying salaries and other kinds of allowances to individuals. Yet, one out of every eight workers in America in 1939 drew his salary from the government. Leaving the city and the state governments out of the picture, it is estimated that one out of every eight persons in the country is on the federal payroll right now, in one form or another.

Stand eight average people together—one of them gets a check regularly from Uncle Sam! Amazing, isn't it? And remember, you are footing the bill. This includes civilian employees, those receiving old age assistance, veterans, dependents of veterans, those in the army, navy and coast guard. This is a total of more than 16 million people receiving monthly checks from the United States government.

Need For Policy

This means that every seven persons must supply a check for the eighth each month. It is indeed a difficult task to decide where we'd like to start cutting. But we must, or our nation is in definite danger. If we do not, we shall be in the position of the Roman Empire, which lasted only little more than 400 years. Rome had too many folks on her payroll. She was soon dust. Historians are saying America has already begun to decline. I will not agree with this viewpoint, provided we come to our senses.

It is not easy to say: "Whoa!" It is difficult to get out from under tax burdens once they're yoked upon us. But we must adopt a definite policy of reducing government expenditures. We must set free our industry, and investment capital as well, from the over-burden of taxes. We must have genuine prosperity. And when we keep asking the government to spend, let us remember that power-out-of-purse is soon power-out-of-hand. It's an easy but sure way to national ruin.

Household Hint

If you do not want your fruit or berry pie to boil over, make the air vents in the highest part of the pastry, and wide enough so that they will not close up in the baking. If the steam can't find its way out in vents especially provided, it breaks through at the weakest point, usually around the edge where top and bottom crusts are sealed.

Household Hint

If you want to examine the condition of your fireplace flue, use a mirror and flashlight.

Veterans' News

The first concerns veterans who may be entitled to waiver of premium payments because of total disability existing for six or more consecutive months. Waiver in such cases generally is made effective from the date the period of disability commenced but not more than one year before VAs receipt of the insured's application for waiver.

If application is made by Aug. 1, however, and entitlement to waiver is established, it may be made effective from the beginning of the disability period as far back as Aug. 1, 1941, and premiums paid while the insured was totally disabled.

Although the time for reinstating lapsed National Service Life Insurance has been extended, Veterans Administration said today that Aug. 1, 1947, still remains the deadline for applying for two other insurance benefits.

After next Aug. 1, waiver of premiums paid more than a year from date of application will be granted only in special cases where it can be shown that the insured was unable to apply within the time limit.

The other deadline affects beneficiaries of deceased NSLI policyholders who, prior to death either in service or after discharge, became eligible for waiver of premiums but never applied. Such beneficiaries may claim refund of waived premiums during the insured's total disability extending as far back as Aug. 1, 1941, if application, with evidence of the insured's right to waiver, is made by Aug. 1,, of this year.

After that date, waiver normally will not be granted for any premium which was due over a year from the insured's death, and the beneficiary must apply within that time. Exception is made where the beneficiary is incompetent or a minor, in which case application must be filed within one year from approval of the legal barrier.

Forms and assistance in applying for these benefits prior to the Aug. 1 deadline are available at any VA office.

Q: Who is entitled to the last compensation or pension check due a veteran in event of his death?

A: The check received at the time of the veteran's death becomes a part of his estate. The person who bears the expense of the late sickness may apply for the burial award of $150.

Q: I am a World War I veteran and would like to know if I can get a guaranteed loan under the provisions of the servicemen's readjustment act (GI Bill.)

A: No. Benefits of the act are for World War II veterans only.

Household Hint

Color that has been changed by perspiration cannot be restored, particularly if the stain is an old one. You may be able to remove fresh perspiration stains if the color has not been affected. Get at them quickly, however. For washable fabrics, wash with warm water and mild soap. For non washable, sponge with warm soapsuds, then with clear, warm water.

NOTICE! to Nevada Irrigation District Water Users

Due to increased demands the Nevada Irrigation District is having difficulty in supplying its water consumers for this year. The South Yuba Canal, which serves most of Nevada County with water, is now running to its full capacity and no additional water can be obtained until the completion of the Scotts Flat Dam, which is now in course of construction and which will be finished toward the end of this year.

The cooperation of water users is being asked at this time rather than to make more drastic regulations, which may become necessary if cooperation by all water users is not immediately obtained.

There is sufficient water in the system at this time to serve all applicants for water, provided caution is practiced in its use and full cooperation on the part of water users is obtained.

It is requested that no irrigation be done, where a domestic service is supplied, after 8:00 o'clock P. M. and until 7:00 o'clock A. M. Irrigation of lawns and flowers should be limited to the time necessary for the water to get to the roots of plants, and sprinklers should be turned off after running in one place for such time.

It is further requested that no use of water be made directly from hoses without attachment of sprinkler or suitable nozzle, and in no case should water be run out of the hose directly onto the ground without going through a sprinkler.

It is most urgent that users of water stop all unnecessary use of water at this time, and through the hot season of July and August, and that they cooperate to the fullest extent in saving water so that the farmers of the District may receive their allotted quantities of water necessary to raise their crops.

She's a good party-line neighbor, too

Yes, whether it's a matter of sharing flowers...or a pet recipe...or a party-line, neighborliness is simply being thoughtful and considerate of others. These days, to provide telephone service to more people, there are more party lines than ever before. When you share a line, you can earn genuine appreciation from your telephone neighbors by remembering—

Five Golden Rules for party-line neighbors

- Space your calls instead of making an extended series of them...and talk only as long as necessary.
- If yours is an emergency call, and the line is in use, explain the circumstances to the person using the line.
- If you are calling from a dial telephone, always make certain the line is clear before you dial.
- Ask your youngsters not to monopolize the telephone.
- Replace the receiver properly when you finish your call.

Thank you!

CHAPTER TWO

JULY 28, 1850—I went over and saw the Long Tom working. It will revolutionize mining if it will save the gold, Took plans of it. I'm handy with tools and knocked one together without too much trouble. The Nevada City blacksmith charged me four dollars to punch the holes in the sheet-iron plate. Set it up on the claim Friday and took out almost two ounces that day. Worked a strip eight feee square. That is as much as I did in a week with a rocker. All the miners up and down the creek came to see it working. I had offers of two ounces apiece to make three of them but I've promised Anderson to begin work on the ditch as soon as I get through with the claim. Had a letter from Dad that gave me the blues. Dear old mother is pining and ailing to see me—afraid something will happen to me. Well, I am way off out of the world but I've got the best of health, I wrote her a long letter cheering her up and promising I would come back as soon as I got six thousand dollars together. Dad says Hetty is a good girl and I could not pick out a better wife and that she comes over to the place reguarly and asks them to read to her my letters. Some of the married miners are planning to bring their wives out from the states. About the only thing holding them back is the certainty that it will not take long to clean up all the gold there is in the country and then there would be nothing left to do except go back again. A lot argue that they can go to farming in the valleys but with the mines worked out, the miners gone out of the mounains where would they have a market for what they raised?

AUGUST 4, 1850—Had a great streak of luck last week. Worked out the claim and before I moved the Tom, tried some of the rocker tailings. They were as rich as if the dirt had not been washed and I took nineteen ounces out of the riffle box besides a nugget that weighed nearly an ounce. I've taken out of the claim about one hundred and twenty ounces and have sent Dad fifteen hundred dollars. It's cost me about five hundred dollars to live and I've got six ounces in the yeast powder box under the big stone in front of the fire place. Am worried about North. I don't care about the $50 but it's singular that he doesn't show up or write.

AUGUST 11, 1850—Anderson moved his traps over to my cabin and we are living together. It makes a lot of difference having a pard with you, somebody to talk and tell your troubles to although he laughs at me, swears that I have no troubles and don't know what troubles are. I have told him about the old folks and Hetty and about my plan to buy the Slocum farm and he says, "Don't worry about the girl. She will wait for you fast enough as long as you are sending home money; and as for troubles, when you are married then you will begin to know something about them." I asked him if he was married and he said 'yes' and then he shut up like a clam. We have dug more than half he ditch and will finish it this week. There are a couple of gray squirrels that frolic around in the big pine tree in front of the cabin. I got the shot gun out but Anderson said, "why kill God's creatures? Let them live their lives." He's strange in some ways. He laid there half the afternoon watching them scamper around the limbs or setting up on their hind legs eating pine nuts and said there was more satisfaction in enjoying their anics than eating squirrel stew.

AUGUST 18, 1850—We finished the ditch on Thursday and turned in the water. It carries a lot more than we need and when we ran it into the gulch, Anderson got a new idea. We put a trench down through the middle of the ravine and there was a pretty heavy fall. The top dirt is nothing but red clay and he began picking the dirt and watchiing it run off into the creek and then he said: "What is the use of shoveling this all off when the water will do it for us". Sure enough it worked like a charm. We pulled off our shoes, turned up our overalls, jumped into the trench and worked away like beavers and the water did more work in one day than boh of us could have stripped shoveling in a week.

By Saturday noon we have cleared off a strip forty feet long and ten feet wide and will set the Long Tom tomorrow and clean it up. It looks like pretty good ground as we could pick up lots of pieces of gold some of them weighing two bits.

The weather is awfully hot but it don't bother us much to work when it's the hottest and I have not heard of anyone being sunstruck. It's curious how quickly it coos off after sundown. A breeze starts and blow up the creek strong enough to sway the tops of the pine trees and the noise in the branches sounds like a lullaby. Since Pard came to camp with me we spend an hour or two every evening after supper sitting out under a big sugar pine that grows in front of the cabin, smoking our pipes, but don't talk much. It is all so solemn and still, that is it seems so until you begin to hear what Pard calls voices of the night, the frogs, the owls, the rasp of the tree toads, or the howl of a wolf way off in the mountains and if it were not for the glimmer of a light in Platt's cagin down the creek, we would think we were two castaways lost in a wilderness. I believe it is that sort of feeling that drives so many of he boys to drinking or carousing around the saloons hunting excitement.

*NOTE—Anderson had stumbled on another great step in mining, viz., ground sluicing, and without doubt was one of the first to adopt this method.
